HONGKONG - ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Hong Kong has a free market economy, highly dependent on international trade and finance - the value of goods and services trade, including the sizable share of reexports, is about four times GDP. Hong Kong has no tariffs on imported goods, and it levies excise duties on only four commodities, whether imported or produced locally: hard alcohol, tobacco, oil, and methyl alcohol. There are no quotas or dumping laws. Hong Kong continues to link its currency closely to the US dollar, maintaining an arrangement established in 1983.

Excess liquidity, low interest rates and a tight housing supply have caused Hong Kong property prices to rise rapidly. The lower and middle-income segments of the population increasingly find housing unaffordable.

Hong Kong's open economy has left it exposed to the global economic situation. Its continued reliance on foreign trade and investment makes it vulnerable to renewed global financial market volatility or a slowdown in the global economy.

Mainland China has long been Hong Kong's largest trading partner, accounting for about half of Hong Kong's total trade by value. Hong Kong's natural resources are limited, and food and raw materials must be imported. As a result of China's easing of travel restrictions, the number of mainland tourists to the territory surged from 4.5 million in 2001 to 47.3 million in 2014, outnumbering visitors from all other countries combined. After peaking in 2014, overall tourist arrivals dropped 2.5% in 2015 and 4.5% in 2016. The tourism sector rebounded in 2017, with visitor arrivals rising 3.2% to 58.47 million. Travelers from Mainland China totaled 44.45 million, accounting for 76% of the total.

The Hong Kong Government is promoting the Special Administrative Region (SAR) as the preferred business hub for renminbi (RMB) internationalization. Hong Kong residents are allowed to establish RMB-denominated savings accounts, RMB-denominated corporate and Chinese government bonds have been issued in Hong Kong, RMB trade settlement is allowed, and investment schemes such as the Renminbi Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor (RQFII) Program was first launched in Hong Kong. Offshore RMB activities experienced a setback, however, after the People's Bank of China changed the way it set the central parity rate in August 2015. RMB deposits in Hong Kong fell from 1.0 trillion RMB at the end of 2014 to 559 billion RMB at the end of 2017, while RMB trade settlement handled by banks in Hong Kong also shrank from 6.8 trillion RMB in 2015 to 3.9 trillion RMB in 2017.

Hong Kong has also established itself as the premier stock market for Chinese firms seeking to list abroad. In 2015, mainland Chinese companies constituted about 50% of the firms listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and accounted for about 66% of the exchange's market capitalization.

During the past decade, as Hong Kong's manufacturing industry moved to the mainland, its service industry has grown rapidly. In 2014, Hong Kong and China signed a new agreement on achieving basic liberalization of trade in services in Guangdong Province under the Closer Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA), adopted in 2003 to forge closer ties between Hong Kong and the mainland. The new measures, which took effect in March 2015, cover a negative list and a most-favored treatment provision. On the basis of the Guangdong Agreement, the Agreement on Trade in Services signed in November 2015 further enhanced liberalization, including extending the implementation of the majority of Guangdong pilot liberalization measures to the whole Mainland, reducing the restrictive measures in the negative list, and adding measures in the positive lists for cross-border services as well as cultural and telecommunications services. In June 2017, the Investment Agreement and the Agreement on Economic and Technical Cooperation (Ecotech Agreement) were signed under the framework of CEPA.

Hong Kong's economic integration with the mainland continues to be most evident in the banking and finance sector. Initiatives like the Hong Kong-Shanghai Stock Connect, the Hong Kong- Shenzhen Stock Connect the Mutual Recognition of Funds, and the Bond Connect scheme are all important steps towards opening up the Mainland's capital markets and have reinforced Hong Kong's role as China's leading offshore RMB market. Additional connect schemes such as ETF Connect (for exchange-traded fund products) are also under exploration by Hong Kong authorities. In 2017, Chief Executive Carrie LAM announced plans to increase

GENERAL

Having issued 10,000 ordinary shares of HK$1.00 each, Klassic Diam Limited is wholly owned by Ms. Sheetal Bharakumar Patel [S B Patel] who is an India merchant.

She is a Hong Kong ID holder and has got the right to reside in Hong Kong. She is also the only director of the subject.

She has been in Hong Kong for a very long time as he she got his Hong Kong ID before setting up the subject. S B Patel can be reached at her Hong Kong mobile phone number 852-3693 9625.

The subject shares the office with another company known as Abee Impex Ltd. [Abee] which is also a Hong Kong-registered company. The subject moved to the present address in August 2015.

Abee was incorporated on 6th September, 2004. The managing director of Abee is Mr. Bharatkumar Jairambhai Patel. He seems to be a family member of S B Patel.

Besides operating the subject, S B Patel is also operating another company known as Fancy Impex (HK) Ltd. [Fancy Impex].

Fancy Impex is also a diamond trader which was incorporated on 17th April, 2013.

It is located at a different address and wholly-owned by S B Patel. However, this company is chiefly administered by Mr. Bharatkumar Haribhai Patel who seems to be a family member of S B Patel.

The subject is a diamond importer, exporter and wholesaler. It is trading in loose, polished and cut diamonds. It is a manufacturer and wholesaler of the following products:
Marquise, pears, tappers, buggets and rose cut, round brilliant, single cut full cut and fancy cut, Black Diamonds;.

Most of the commodities are imported from India. Prime markets are Hong Kong, China, India and the other Asian countries. Business is normal.

The subject's business is chiefly handled by S B Patel himself. History in Hong Kong is over four years and five months.

On the whole, consider it good for normal business engagements in small credit amounts.
