HONG KONG - ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Hong Kong has a free market economy, highly dependent on international trade and finance - the value of goods and services trade, including the sizable share of reexports, is about four times GDP. Hong Kong has no tariffs on imported goods, and it levies excise duties on only four commodities, whether imported or produced locally: hard alcohol, tobacco, hydrocarbon oil, and methyl alcohol. There are no quotas or dumping laws. Hong Kong continues to link its currency closely to the US dollar, maintaining an arrangement established in 1983.

Excess liquidity, low interest rates and a tight housing supply have caused Hong Kong property prices to rise rapidly. The lower and middle-income segments of the population increasingly find housing unaffordable.

Hong Kong's open economy has left it exposed to the global economic situation. Its continued reliance on foreign trade and investment makes it vulnerable to renewed global financial market volatility or a slowdown in the global economy.

The mainland has long been Hong Kong's largest trading partner, accounting for about half of Hong Kong's total trade by value. Hong Kong's natural resources are limited, and food and raw materials must be imported. As a result of China's easing of travel restrictions, the number of mainland tourists to the territory surged from 4.5 million in 2001 to 47.3 million in 2014, outnumbering visitors from all other countries combined. After peaking in 2014, overall tourist arrivals dropped 2.5% in 2015 and 4.5% in 2016. The tourism sector rebounded in 2017, with visitor arrivals rising 3.2% to 58.47 million. Travelers from Mainland China totaled 44.45 million, accounting for 76% of the total.

The Hong Kong Government is promoting the Special Administrative Region (SAR) as the preferred business hub for renminbi (RMB) internationalization. Hong Kong residents are allowed to establish RMB-denominated savings accounts, RMB-denominated corporate and Chinese government bonds have been issued in Hong Kong, RMB trade settlement is allowed, and investment schemes such as the Renminbi Qualified Foreign Institutional Investor (RQFII) Program was first launched in Hong Kong. Offshore RMB activities experienced a setback, however, after the People's Bank of China changed the way it set the central parity rate in August 2015. RMB deposits in Hong Kong fell from 1.0 trillion RMB at the end of 2014 to 559 billion RMB at the end of 2017, while RMB trade settlement handled by banks in Hong Kong also shrank from 6.8 trillion RMB in 2015 to 3.9 trillion RMB in 2017.

Hong Kong has also established itself as the premier stock market for Chinese firms seeking to list abroad. In 2015, mainland Chinese companies constituted about 50% of the firms listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and accounted for about 66% of the exchange's market capitalization.

During the past decade, as Hong Kong's manufacturing industry moved to the mainland, its service industry has grown rapidly. In 2014, Hong Kong and China signed a new agreement on achieving basic liberalization of trade in services in Guangdong Province under the Closer Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA), adopted in 2003 to forge closer ties between Hong Kong and the mainland. The new measures, which took effect in March 2015, cover a negative list and a most-favored treatment provision. On the basis of the Guangdong Agreement, the Agreement on Trade in Services signed in November 2015 further enhanced liberalization, including extending the implementation of the majority of Guangdong pilot liberalization measures to the whole Mainland, reducing the restrictive measures in the negative list, and adding measures in the positive lists for cross-border services as well as cultural and telecommunications services. In June 2017, the Investment Agreement and the Agreement on Economic and Technical Cooperation (Ecotech Agreement) were signed under the framework of CEPA.

Hong Kong's economic integration with the mainland continues to be most evident in the banking and finance sector. Initiatives like the Hong Kong-Shanghai Stock Connect, the Hong Kong- Shenzhen Stock Connect the Mutual Recognition of Funds, and the Bond Connect scheme are all important steps towards opening up the Mainland's capital markets and have reinforced Hong Kong's role as China's leading offshore RMB market. Additional connect schemes such as ETF Connect (for exchange-traded fund products) are also under exploration by Hong Kong authorities. In 2017, Chief Executive Carrie LAM announced plans to increase

GENERAL

China Diamond Corporation Limited is a private limited company incorporated in April 2000. Formerly the subject had just issued 2 ordinary shares of HK$1.00 each while the shareholders Mr. Darshan Jivatlal Bhagat and Mr. Tso Wing Ching each held one share respectively. On 20th March, 2001, the subject created 859,034 ordinary shares more and on the same date, 558,321 shares were allotted to Bhagat while 300,662 shares were allotted to Tso.

The subject was reshuffled and increased its issued share capital again. It had been jointly owned by Bhagat, holding 65%, and Mr. Yau Kung Wan, a Hong Kong businessman holding 35%. On 23rd April, 2013, Yau and Bhagat transferred all their shares to C D Jewels International Ltd. [CDJI] which is a BVI-registered company. Now, the subject is wholly-owned by CDJI.

Now, Yau and Bhagat are also directors of the subject. Bhagat is a Hong Kong ID card holder.

The subject moved to the present address in April 2015 which is the latest.

The subject is a diamond trader. Its business name is C D (Belgium) Company. Its main products are loose diamonds, polished diamonds, 0.08 to 2.00 carats diamonds, etc.

It imports all kinds of raw materials for diamond, precious stones, sapphire, ruby, etc. from Europe, South Africa, Cambodia, India, other Asian countries, etc.

The finished products include the following:

Necklaces, bangles, diamond pendants, diamond engagement rings, etc.

Products are marketed in Hong Kong, exported to China, India, Japan, Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Europe, etc. However, Belgium seems to be the prime market of the subject. Some of its raw materials are also imported from Belgium.

Long time ago, the subject just exported its products to India only. Now, its products are exported to over ten countries. Overall business is steady.

The subject's products have got the following certifications: GIA, the IGI, and HRD.

In Hong Kong, the subject has had about 15 employees.

The subject has set up a company in Shanghai, China known as China Diamond (Shanghai) Corporation Ltd. in order to penetrate the China market further. The Shanghai Company is located at Room A511, China Diamond Exchange Center, 1701 Century Avenue, Pudong, Shanghai.

The subject has set up a factory in Shenzhen Special Economic Zone, China. This factory is manufacturing J.C. branded jewellery for the subject.

The subject is marketing its own products throughout the world.

Besides the subject, Mr. Yau Kung Wan is also operating another firm known as Jewellery Collection Co. which is also a jewellery and diamond trader. This company is located at a different address.

The principal shareholder of the subject Bhagat is an Indian who has got close business ties with some of the diamond manufacturers in India.

Besides, the subject has expanded its business by setting up a new firm known as 16 Diamonds.com Ltd. which is a Hong Kong-registered firm engaged in online jewellery retailing.

The subject has had two showrooms, one is in its registered address while the other is located at 16/F., Luk Fook Jewellery Centre, 239 Temple Street, Jordan, Kowloon, Hong Kong.

A Macau subsidiary known as Bei Wah Diamante (Macau) Limitada has been set up in recent years in Macau. This company is responsible for the Macau market.

The subject also has had associated companies in Mumbai of India and Dubai of the United Arab Emirates. In order to penetrate the international market further, the subject has taken part in fairs and exhibitions held in Hong Kong and other foreign large cities. For instance, it took part in "HKTDC Hong Kong International Diamond, Gem & Pearl Show 2018" which had been held in Hong Kong AsiaWorld-Expo, Lantau, Hong Kong during the period of 27th February to 3rd March, 2018. Its booth No. was AWE 2-H18.

According to the subject, its annual sales turnover is over HK$500 to 700 million. Business is active.

The contact person of the subject is Ms. Ceicludia Yip who is a Hong Kong employee.

On the whole, having a history of over eighteen years and three months in Hong Kong, the subject is considered good for normal business engagements.
